Guin

25

- Domenichino 34 A Romantic Landscape with Shepherds at a Cascade, and Cattle watering in the distance—a clear and pleasing Picture, designed in Classic Taste

59

- Rubens 35 Portrait of his Wife and Child; the second Wife of Rubens was Sister to Breughel, who has contributed to the Picture, by adding a luxuriant back ground, truly correspondent with the rich colouring of the figures

68

- J. Steen 36 The Marriage at Cana—a composition of many figures; parts of this Picture are exquisitely beautiful, notwithstanding the grossness with which the Painter has presumed to treat the subject—very highly finished

64

- Rembrandt 37 Portrait of a Burgomaster—painted with animation, and coloured with warmth, and in great harmony

116

- Rembrandt 38 Portrait of an old Woman in a white Ruff; the countenance touched with wonderful spirit. It displays great breadth and very rich colour

- 28 Pordenone 39 Virgin with a Goldfinch, her Hand resting on a Bas-relief representing David with the Head of Goliath, the Child in her lap, and near her St. Joseph, in the rich manner of Titian
- 17 Claude..... 40 A Landscape, warm Evening—an Arm of the Sea appears to intercept a romantic broken Scene, the nearer part of which is crowned with Buildings and Wood, in the front are Peasants and Cattle crossing a ford: the whole painted with glowing effect
- 70 Schidone..... 41 St. John seated in Landscape; a woody distance—fine effect
- 105 Carracci 42 Apollo slaying Marsyas—painted in a bold manner, and finely designed
- 76 L. Spada 43 The Virgin and St. Joseph teaching the Young Christ to read: painted with a firm Pencil and much resembling Domenichino, to whom this Picture has been frequently attributed
- 230 Schidone 44 The Holy Family with St. Joseph—a fine composition and illumined with charming effect: in the grand manner of Corregio
- 230 Parmegiano 45 An Entombment—a grand composition of several figures in the bold manner of M. Angelo. The expression very fine, in the distance is the Vision of the Cross over the City. Etched by Parmegiano
- 250 A. Del Sarto..... 46 The Virgin holding the Infant Christ, who is stretching out his Arms to the Infant St. John. The Attitude of the Virgin is dignified, the eagerness and tenderness of the Christ beautifully expressed. The colouring is rich, and every part finished with the greatest delicacy—from the Cabinet of the Doge Cambiaso
- 290 De La Hire 47 The Separation of Abraham and Lot—a highly elegant chef d'œuvre. A composition of many figures, among which are a Female with a Child reposing, a Boy with Dogs, a Youth oppressed with thirst drinking, and others dismounting and assisting to Water the Cattle at a Spring issuing at the base of a magnificent Temple : an Angel, Abraham and another stand apart ; the first of these is pointing out to Abraham the Land promised to his future descendants : The design of the Figures is exquisitely beautiful, and the Finishing partakes of the neatness of miniature painting .

- Garofalo 48 Christ and the Woman of Samaria at the Well ; a few figures also seen in a picturesque and beautiful distance . The Composition simple, and the expression fine : a Building introduced in the center in shadows gives a brilliant Relief to the Figure of the Female : the Costume and Draperies as usual in the works of Garofalo, are rich and finely coloured

250

- A. Carracci 49 A Landscape with a Road at the foot of a mountainous Range, and Figures in pastoral Employment—a masterly production worthy of the great mind of Carracci, and apparently executed à l'improvviso. For variety and distinctness of Objects and freshness of tone this Landscape has no equal

225

- Carracci 50 The Debouchement of a River with Figures in a Boat ; the Front ground occupied by a Skreen of Trees, through which appears a Picturesque Scene—painted with a Masterly Hand and in a sweet Tone

P. of W.

- V. Dyck 51 Christ healing the Lame Man ; a composition chiefly of three Figures, the Lame Man is represented with the Hand turned to his Breast in an attitude the most expressive of Gratitude and Devotion. The commanding Figure of the Saviour, and the noble Character of the Disciple are fine and imposing ; two other Heads appear expressive of Wonder and Adoration. The Colouring and Touch are suitable to the Subject, splendid and vigorous.—This noble chef d'œuvre is engraved by De Jode, under the title : “ Tolle crabbatum ”

290

- G. Poussin 52 A Grand Landscape with Wood, Water, Buildings and Figures, composed in fine Classic Taste—a capital Picture

298 S. Rosa..... 53 A Grand Landscape with Broken Hilly Grounds, and detached Rocks, on which Banditti are upon the look out, and a Fowler shooting Game in the near part of the Picture.—It is a magnificent display of the Powers of Salvator, the Lights finely thrown, and the Colouring uncommonly brilliant. It is from the Gallery of the Duca di San Vitali, near Mantua

240 Guercino..... 54 The Woman taken in Adultery; a composition of ten Figures, among which that of the Female is pre-eminently beautiful: her Hair dishevelled, her Cheek bedewed with Tears, and her Eye fixed on the Saviour, she is awaiting her Sentence: an armed Soldier behind gives a beautiful lustre and delicacy to her half naked figure, an Elder with a Stone in his hand, is stooping, as if to conceal his confusion; others appear in admiration behind, the contrasted force and sweetness of this Picture is truly charming. It is from the Palace of M. A. Cambiaso of Genoa

75 Claude..... 55 A Sea Port with the Garden Façade of the Colonna Palace, and a selection of grand Italian Buildings, Vessels at Anchor, and Figures on Shore in the Front Ground. The whole illumined by a warm Evening Sun: the choice of Objects in the distance appears less designed for Embellishment than to throw a variety of tender Shadows across the Water, which give a beautiful lustre to the intermediate passages.—This Picture is a fine display of the great excellence of this Painter's Talent

1650 Teniers..... 56 A Flemish Village Fête; a composition of near two hundred Figures, comprising a Religious Procession, a Brawl, a Group of Dancers, Tables spread with Viands, and Peasants regaling, and lastly in the Front Ground a Seigneur, his Lady and Family, Spectators of the Festive Scene; the attitudes of these many Figures are infinitely varied, and the whole is touched with the greatest spirit. A Dancing Pair in the centre in front appear to have raised the emulation of a little Girl, the Seigneur's Daughter, who extending her Gown, endeavours to imitate the Dancing Couple, the principal Figures are touched with Care and Delicacy; and in this quarter of the Picture the Artist has displayed his highest finishing.—A CHEF D'ŒUVRE

Both 57 A Grand Landscape, with Figures, the Baptism of the Eunuch; a Mountainous Scene on the Banks of a River; the Front Ground over-arched by Trees, the Branches of which are disposed in the most agreeable Forms, the strictest portraiture of Nature. Warmth of colour and crispness of Truth which form the charm of this delightful Painter of Landscape, are predominant features in this noble chef d'œuvre

F. Mieris 58 A Lady Stringing Pearls, seated at a Table covered with a rich Turkey Carpet, on which is a Silver Vase and Salver; a Female Domestick behind; the Features and Hair are exquisitely touched; and the Sattin and Draperies finished to illusion

A. Ostade 59 A Flemish Family's Repast, Interior; the Figures in this beautiful Picture are a Dutch Peasant, his Wife amusing an Infant in her lap with a Doll, and a Boy with a mess of Pottage, a Spaniel near him with his Feet upon a Stool, appears petitioning for his Portion; a warm Light admitted from a Window diffuses a delightful Glow throughout the Chamber, and gives a rich harmony to the Colouring which is in A. Ostade's very finest manner; the finishing of the several Utensils in the lighter parts of the Picture is equal to G. Dow. From the Cabinet of Mr. Schmidt of Amsterdam

A. V. de Velde 60 Peasants and Cattle reposing beneath a Woody Bank: a beautiful chef d'œuvre. An Heifer is slaking it's Thirst at the brink of a clear Pool, a Female, her arm resting on it, turns herself to a Cowherd seated and in conversation with her. Other Cattle in various attitudes display the correctness of design for which A. V. de Velde was particularly distinguished; the Animals are painted to the Life, and colored in the true tone of Nature. It is truly the perfection of the Art in this line. From the Cabinet of Mr. Schmidt of Amsterdam

Wouvermans 61 Hay Harvest. A perfect chef d'œuvre, in which all the excellencies of this Master are beautifully combined. In the nearer part of this interesting Picture are seen to the left, a Lighter and a Youth bathing; beyond these a Waggon Team baiting, or at rest, while the Harvest Men are busily employed in loading: another, with a Group as busily engaged, on more elevated ground; and between them a Romping Party in the New Hay, and Falconers returning home with their Dogs; the Sky overcast, appropriate to the time of year, gives warning of an approaching Shower; it accounts for the bustle of the Scene, and serves to heighten the effect of Chiaro Scuro. In no fine work of this Master, it is presumed, can more agreeable variety be found, or sweeter effect and colour, and delicate enamel in the finishing. From the Cabinet of Mr. Schmidt of Amsterdam

W. V. de Velde 62 A Calm with a Fleet at Anchor, and a Vessel and Yachts in motion; no Painter ever represented Marine Views with such truth as W. V. de Velde, for which he was qualified by more than merely Theoretical Knowledge; hence the natural Position of his Objects, and the accuracy of the detail, even to the satisfaction of the Nautical Observer. The clearness of the Sky, the reflection on the Water, and the delicacy and neatness of the touch, mark this to be one of his very finest chef d'œuvres

~~70~~ THE SURPRISING CHEF D'ŒUVRE OF REMBRANDT. THE PORTRAIT OF THE MASTER SHIP BUILDER, known throughout Europe as the finest Performance in his second manner, when quitting the elaborate style of his Master he discovered that breadth was necessary to render the true effect of Nature. The Shipwright is represented in his Closet, a Table before him covered with Sections and Naval Architectural Designs, he is interrupted by his Wife who delivers a letter in haste; her hand upon the Latch of the Door, which gives a spirit and movement to the figures; the handling and colouring of the heads, remind the Spectator of the glowing style of Rubens. It is a truly wonderful performance, far above all Praise! A Mezzotinto of this Picture is dedicated to its late Proprietor Mr.
SCHMIDT of AMSTERDAM.
